

"Son of man, can these bones live?"

— Ezekiel 37:3

God showed Ezekiel a valley of dry bones and asked the one question only God can answer: Can these bones live?

The answer, then and now, is the same — and it comes by the same means. The Word of God gives form. The Spirit of God gives life. Together, and only together, they make dead things stand.

Eleven chapters trace that single pattern through the whole Bible — from the dust of Eden to the rushing wind of Pentecost, from the valley of bones to the seven letters Christ dictated to His own church. Word without Spirit is a corpse. Spirit without Word has no body to inhabit. From Genesis to Revelation, every restoration Scripture records has come the same way: the Word goes out, the Spirit answers, and the slain stand on their feet — an exceedingly great army.

If you can hear the question, you can be part of the answer.

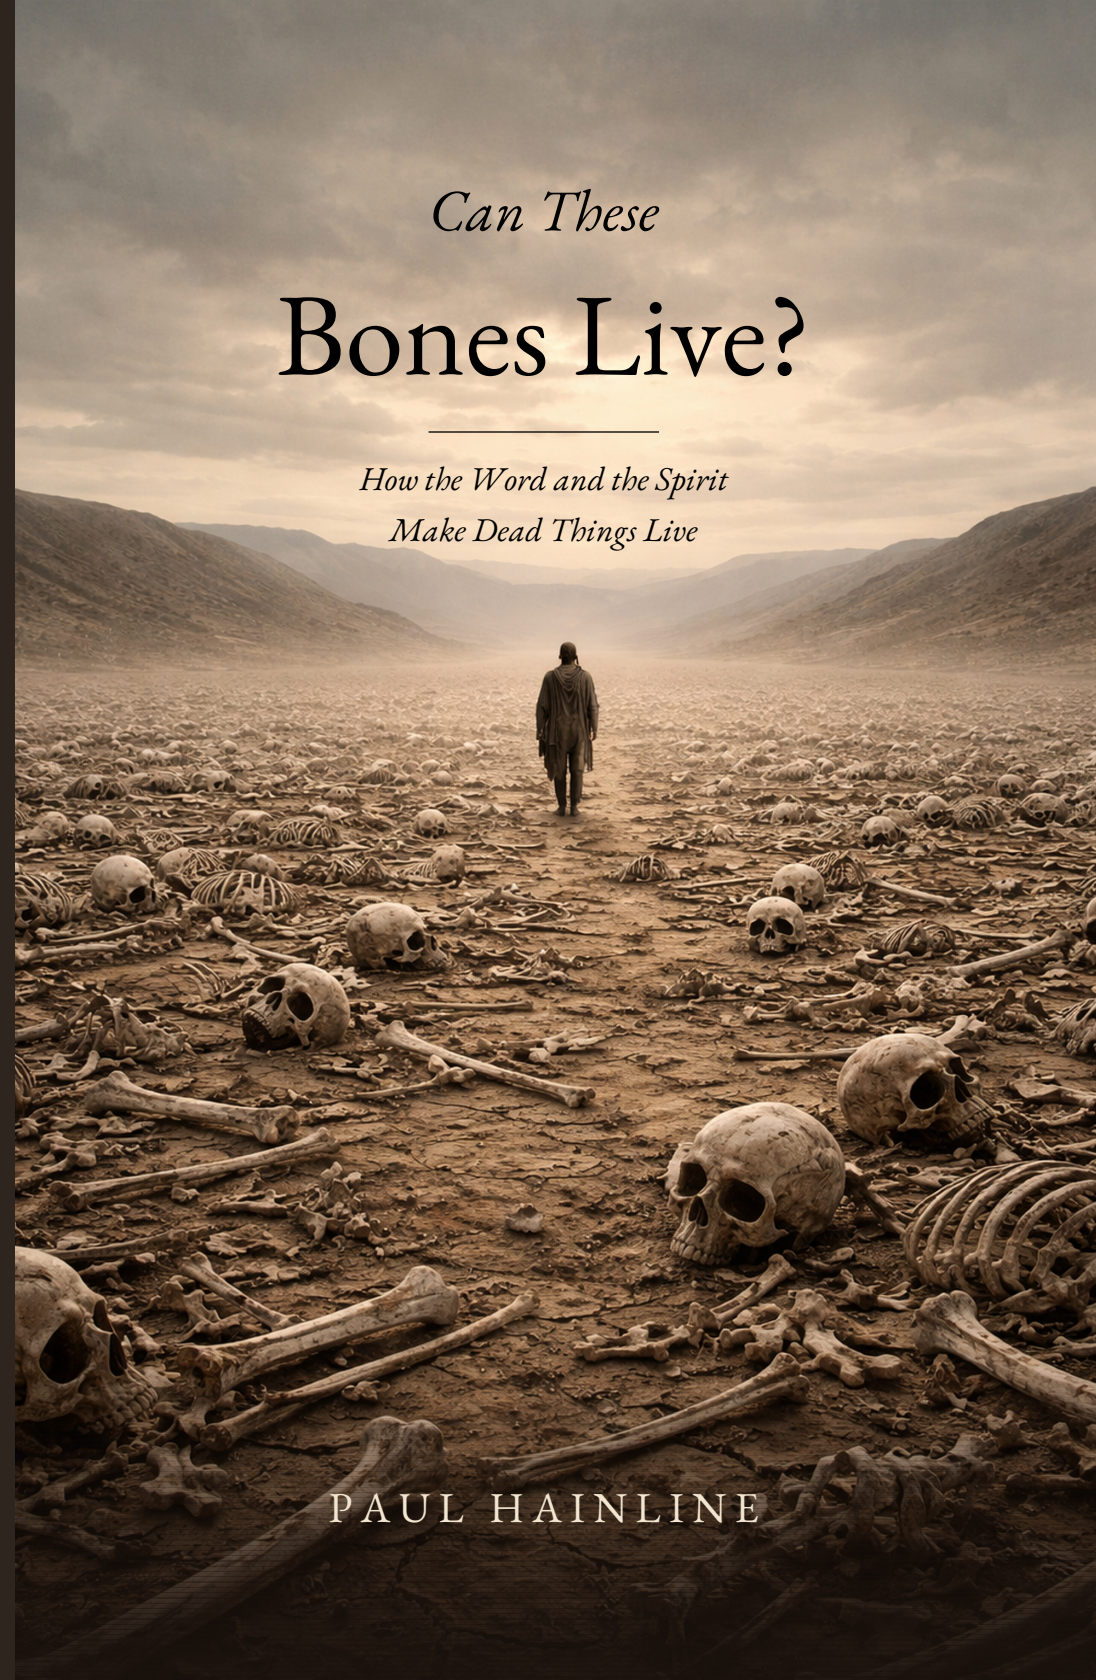

Scripture quotations from the New American Standard Bible® (NASB).

NobleMind Press

noblemind.study

Can These Bones Live?

*How the Word and the Spirit
Make Dead Things Live*

PAUL HAINLINE