

*The book tells you where to look.
The Bible tells you what to see.*

---

This ten-week Scripture study guide walks groups through Change the Mind, Change the Man one chapter at a time — but the book is not the curriculum. The Bible is. Every question sends the group into the biblical text. Every discussion begins and ends in Scripture.

Two tracks. One room.

Each week includes questions for the person in the struggle and questions for the family carrying the weight — because these two audiences are living inside the same story, and they belong in the same conversation.

Designed for prison ministries, reentry programs, congregational Bible studies, and families — wherever people are willing to open the text and stay in it.

*The valley has a through. The road is long.
And the text is already doing the work.*
